

DAY BOOK * SADDLERY AND HARNESS MAKING
APRIL 11, 1812 to JULY 16, 1813
JAMES BROWN, PROP.

James Brown, born in 1790, son of Deacon David Brown, came from Ashford, Conn. with his family, in 1805. He was apprenticed at age 14 to Marquis Converse to be a saddler and harness maker. He moved to Canajoharie, N. Y. to run a business there for a few years. On his return to Brimfield he bought out Mr. Converse. This day book is apparently one of the first he kept. He carried on the business alone, and with his son, Henry Field Brown, for about 40 years. (c. 1852)

Hyde's History of Brimfield

The ell of the Marquis Converse house on Brookfield Road (formerly owned by Richard and Harriet T. Brown, was known to have been a saddlery shop. Mr. Converse built the house as an addition to the shop.
